

Who am I?

If I is me, and me is I,
And you from you, is just me too.
Then I is one and you makes two
So me is we, when I'm with you.

But if it's me that's now with you.
It's not just we, there's lots more too.
For they is me and them and us,
When there is two or more of us.

But what if I, am also he,
Then I am him and he is me.
But if I'm not and I am she,
Then I am her and she is me.

SO WHO AM I?

It's always me,
And sometimes you,
They, them and we
It can be him,
And also he
But only for a boy like me.

© Stephen Norwood 2018

